Visualizing English Print Website Privacy Policy

Information Collected and Use

The Visualizing English Print website (“Website”) collects the e-mail addresses of individuals who utilize the text analysis services provided by the Website. This information is collected in order to enable the Visualizing English Print service to communicate with its Users, for example to notify a user when a long-running job has been completed or an update to the service has been made.

The Visualizing English Print website will retain copies of the texts submitted to the Website for analysis, in order to permit periodic quality checks of the Website’s software.

The Visualizing English Print website collects aggregate data regarding Users of the Website for purposes of tracking use of the Website, including numbers of Users, total pages of text uploaded to the Website, and countries from which Users upload texts to the Website. This aggregate information is collected for purposes of reporting Website use statistics to the funding agency for the Visualizing English Print project, and for scholarly publications.

Except for the reporting of aggregate information and other uses described above, no information collected by the Website will be shared with third parties, sold, or used for any other purpose, unless necessary to comply with a valid legal requirement such as a court order or subpoena.
